The page contains two rows of handwriting practice. The first row features ten large, hand-drawn 'O's. The first 'O' has a curved arrow indicating a counter-clockwise stroke direction. The second 'O' has a red horizontal line underneath it. The sixth 'O' has a green horizontal line underneath it. The last 'O' is enclosed in a yellow rectangular box. The second row features ten smaller 'O's. The first 'O' is enclosed in a yellow rectangular box. The second 'O' has a red horizontal line underneath it. The fourth 'O' has a green horizontal line underneath it. The last 'O' is enclosed in a yellow rectangular box.

Below the handwriting practice is a word association diagram. At the center is a large orange circle containing a white outline of the letter 'O'. Seven green lines radiate from this central circle to connect it to various line drawings: a ladder, two eyes, a bicycle, a sun, a bridge, a monkey's face, and a basket of fruit (including a pear, an apple, and a bunch of grapes). To the left of the central circle is a cluster of five pine trees.
